

Certification Course Textbook

This certification course has been designed to ensure that all students understand the key technical components of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA). Additionally, course participants will walk away with knowledge about how the law came to be enacted, the ACA's place in the overall body of federal and state laws regulating public and private healthcare and health insurance programs, and how the law may evolve.

THE COURSE HAS BEEN BROKEN DOWN INTO 10 SPECIFIC COMPONENTS:

- ACA THEN TO NOW
- THE ACA'S IMPACT ON HEALTH INSURANCE POLICIES
- THE ACA'S IMPACT ON HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETS
- EMPLOYER-SPONSORED PLANS
- THE SMALL EMPLOYER
- EMPLOYER MANDATE
- EMPLOYER REPORTING REQUIREMENTS
- THE INDIVIDUAL MARKET/EXCHANGES
- OTHER POPULATIONS/PROVISIONS
- THE ACA MOVING FORWARD

Students who complete this certification program will be better prepared to counsel both individual and business consumers of health insurance on the specifics of the ACA. They will also be well versed on all of the new options and requirements for health plans the law has created, and how to best help consumers moving forward.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

JESSICA FULGINITI WALTMAN PRINCIPAL, FORWARD HEALTH CONSULTING

Jessica Waltman is a health reform and business strategy consultant with more than twenty years of experience in health insurance markets, health policy and executive leadership.

Prior to founding Forward Health Consulting, Jessica most recently served the National Association of Health Underwriters (NAHU) for sixteen years, including eight years as their Senior Vice President of Government Affairs. She has traveled the country explaining health reform concepts to vast audiences of agents, brokers, consultants, employers and individual consumers. Jessica has not only read the whole health reform law many times over, but she's also digested the more than 40,000 pages of regulations, guidance and forms that go along with it!

Jessica has served the insurance industry generally as a rotating board member of the National Insurance Producers Registry for the past twelve years. Jessica has taught continuing education classes for brokers in 35 states and she initially conceptualized and now instructs for NAHU's PPACA certification program, which is the industry gold standard in health reform education for brokers.
